ABOUT

Our Story

We spent hours working on our best sixties outfits, and I ended up wearing this blue and brown plaid dress. I was feeling pretty excited and super confident.

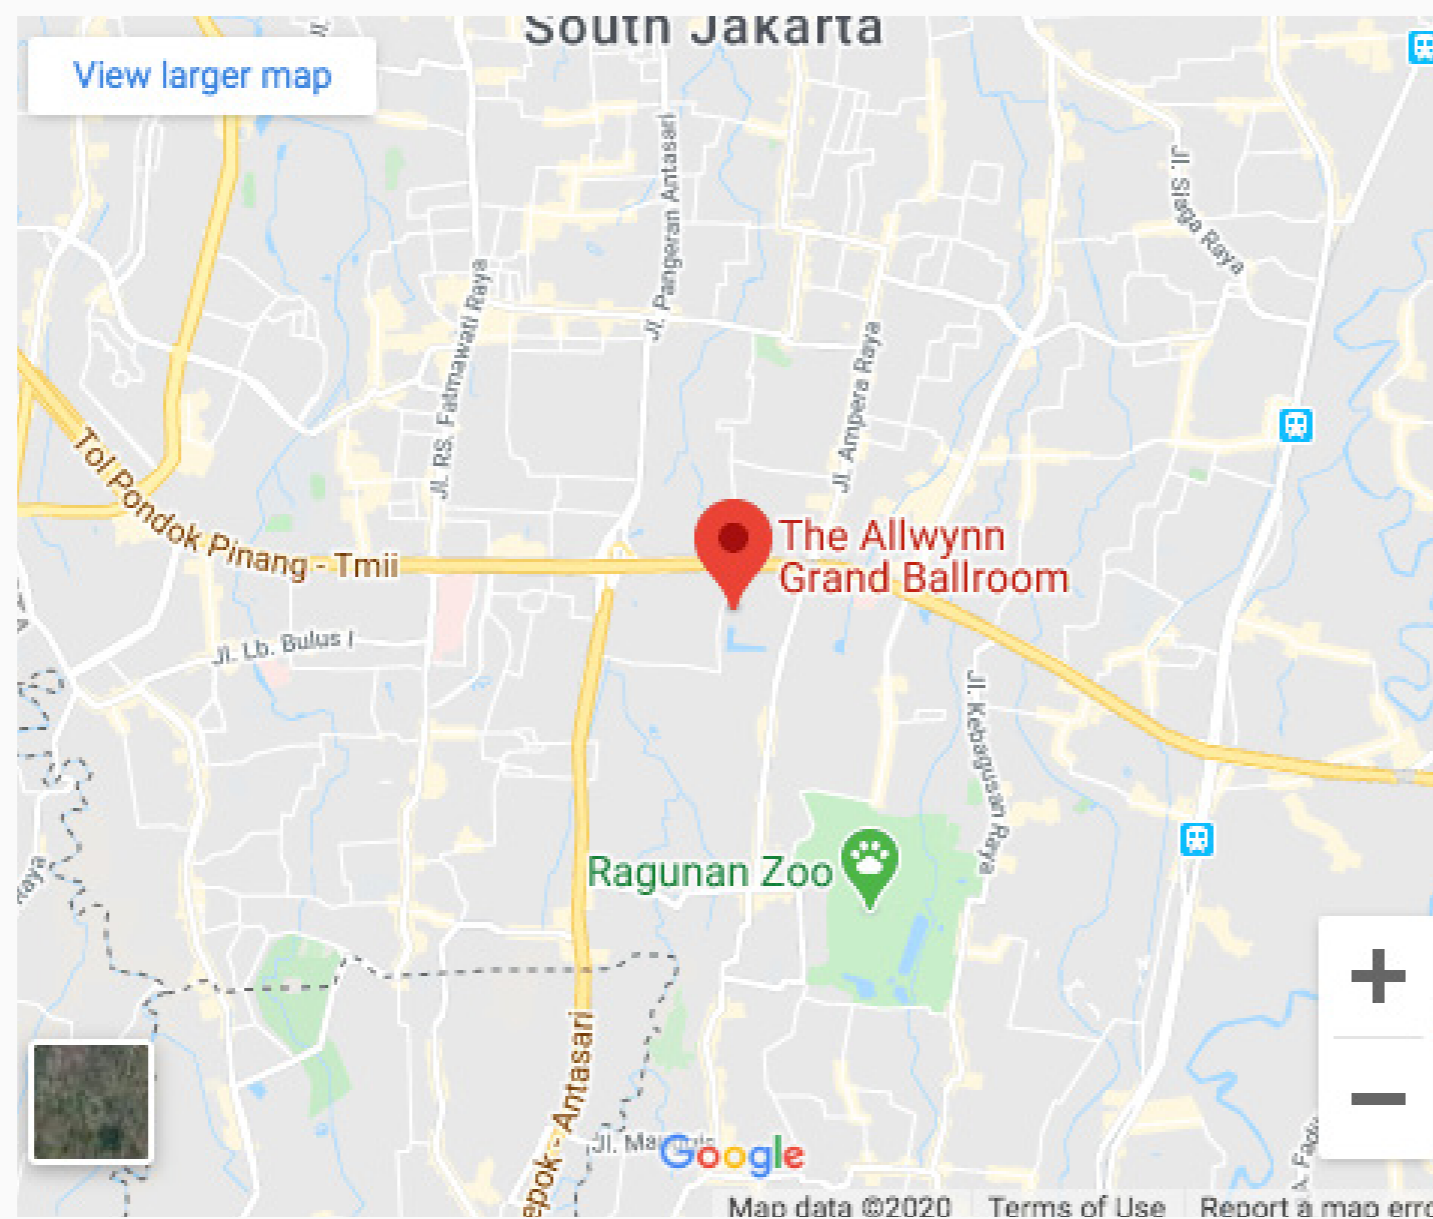

At the studio, the producers handpicked people to stand in different places for the shot, and they happened to pick me for the front. As I stood up to walk over, Adam spotted me.

My plaid dress and his plaid shirt were almost identical so he walked up to me said “Hey, we match, I think that means we are supposed to stand next to each other in the video.”
